

TRAILING SUSPECT WHO SENT POISON TO BOSTON GIRL

Police Say Miss Linnell's Death Was Plotted and Are Seeking Buyer of Cyanide.

BOSTON, Oct. 18.—Thoroughly convinced that Miss Linnell, the young woman who was murdered by some one who wanted her put out of the way and who sent her a cyanide of potassium, which she took under the suspicion that it was a harmless drug, the police to-day worked to accumulate sufficient evidence toward an arrest.

Chief Duggan of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation maintains that it is a case of murder, but admits that it has many puzzling features. A dozen detectives are working on the case. To-day a reward was offered for any one who would or could give any information regarding the purchase of the poison which caused Miss Linnell's death.

In addition the police are investigating the movements of the young woman and her companions for some time before her death in the Young Woman's Christian Association Building Saturday night.

A letter from one of her most intimate friends at the Association was published to-day stating that Miss Linnell had been with Rev. Clarence V. T. Richardson, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church of Cambridge, and formerly Miss Linnell's pastor and friend, at her home at Hyannis.

Rev. Mr. Richardson is 62 at the home of his fiancée, Miss Violet Edwards, at Chestnut Hill, and declines to discuss the case. The minister is a native of New York, and has lived in Cambridge, Mass., for many years.

Miss Linnell is 23 years of age.

Miss Linnell's friend declared that she was generally understood that the minister was engaged at one time to marry the young woman, and so convinced were they of his interest in her that one of them notified him by telephone on Saturday night of Miss Linnell's death.

WALL STREET

Counter-price movements in Great Northern are verified in United States Steel monopolized attention at the opening of to-day's stock market. Opening of these two shares was awaited with interest because of the announcement of the Steel Corporation to acquire its contract with the ore company. Trading of Steel developed that elevated the price to 28, as compared with a closing yesterday of 25-4. Prominent weakness in American Car & Foundry and Great Northern Ore certificates gave increased momentum to the declining tendency at mid-day. Concentrated selling of American Car & Foundry broke the price 4 points down to 24. Morning liquidation of Great Northern Ore shares continued unabated. A bottom of 24 was finally reached after a fall of 7 points.

The selling movement again its force at the beginning of the final hour. From this time until the final rapid recovery was in progress. With Lohr, Valley, Canadian and Union Pacific, Steel and Reading leading the list worked up to near the highest of the day at closing time.

SCOWS GO ON A RAMPAGE.

There was great excitement to-day along the East River in the neighborhood of the Fulton when the scow family of the Fulton and Haledell Coal Company went on a rampage down the river.

Francis, Jennie R. Bouda T. Mary J. Margaret and Sparkill Scows broke away from their home at the foot of Fifty-sixth street. Capt. Peter Leonard of the Bronx, assigned to the Charities Department and Capt. Mike Hayes of the Fidelity rescued Mary J. Margaret and Francis from the rocks off Forty-ninth street, and the others were captured and towed back to the dock by other tugs. Each of the scows was captured by a family but no one was hurt. No damage was done.

In your ramble around New York have you not the excited family? Perhaps you have seen the few sticks of furniture piled up on the sidewalk in front of the home of which James and Mary, his wife and their children, have just been evicted by a ruthless landlord. Why are they being evicted, and why would they stay in a place where they are being evicted after they have been evicted from their home? This is one of the most unusual, most amazing and most heart-breaking stories in New York, and it is told in the Magazine Section of next Sunday's World.

POLICEMAN SAVED FROM DEATH SHOCK BY RUBBER COAT

Struck by Falling Light Wires,
He's Centre of Pyrotechnical Display.

A rain-drenched rubber coat saved Patrolman Nolan of the Alexander avenue police station from being electrocuted early this morning.

The policeman was struck by one of five heavily charged electric light wires that broke and fell at One Hundred and Thirty-sixth street and Alexander avenue. He said that he felt a slight shock, but that was all, the wet rubber coat acting as a non-conductor.

A brilliant pyrotechnical display flamed all around the startled officer as the wire broke, and then the avenue went dark from One Hundred and Thirty-second to One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street.

The New York Edison Company was notified and men came to make repairs. It has not yet been ascertained what caused the wires to break. Nolan reported the occurrence to the Alexander avenue station and returned to his post.

Couple Overcome by Gas.
Jacob Lamiel and his wife, Frieda, both over seventy years old, who rented rooms from Henry Rothstein at No. 1003 Second avenue, were found unconscious from asphyxiation in their apartment this morning. They were taken to the Reception Hospital by Dr. Lippmann, and will recover. The police believe that the tube of their gas heater was accidentally disconnected.

Tuberculosis Its Prevention and Control

Dr. Anderson, Specialist
Diseases of the Throat and Lungs.

Tuberculosis is the most aggressive and mercurial of all diseases, but it is a curable disease if discovered in time and correctly treated at the start. Too much time is lost by the family doctor, who has neither the necessary experience nor the apparatus of the Specialist for distinguishing the early stages of tuberculosis from bronchitis, asthma and other ailments having similar coughing symptoms.

A successful treatment depends entirely upon the diagnosis being absolutely correct, because any medical advice or treatment is worthless unless the physician fully understands the disease, its cause and its ramifications at all times.

Dr. Anderson's remarkable success in the cure of tuberculosis is the direct result of his ability to ascertain, by means of his X-ray examinations, the exact condition within the lungs or chest, before the tubercular germs are present and before the breaking-down state occurs.

His treatment is original, new, scientific and based ALWAYS upon a positive, true diagnosis. It is a complete course of treatment directed and suited to the condition and symptoms of each patient. It is NOT a single remedy, the same thing for every one, and claimed to cure every case in any stage.

Persons cured of consumption are no longer contagious. Every case passes through its curable stage, so do not neglect yourself while you may yet be cured.

Consult Dr. Anderson, expert Lung Specialist, in New York, Office, 50 West 22d St. (between 5th and 6th avs.), New York. Hours, 10 to 4 (Sundays, 11 to 2). Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday, evening, 7 to 9 o'clock. New illustrated book on Tuberculosis sent to any address upon request.
